

CHESTERFIELD COUNCIL ON AGING

Abuse, Neglect and Exploitation of Older Adults

The Virginia Center on Aging administers several training and collaborative initiatives that address domestic violence in later life and elder abuse. These include a training project for criminal justice professionals and service providers on elder abuse, neglect and exploitation that is funded by the US Department of Justice Office on Violence Against Women.

Paula Kupstas, the Project Director for VCoA's Elder Abuse Grant Programs, will talk about the project's goals, share a brief segment of the training, and discuss the importance of collaboration in our elder abuse and domestic violence in later life initiatives.
